

TALES OF A CITY BY THE SEA – SUNDAY MAIL REVIEW – 4 STARS

Bakehouse theatre, Until June 18.

Review by Matt Byrne.

“Tales of a City by the Sea” is an impassioned plea for understanding of the pressures people face to live a normal life on the Gaza Strip.

Smah Sabawi’s script is an eye-opening look at the daily drama of life and love in a war Zone where random missiles end lives.

With music, poetry, harsh reality and hope, the excellent ensemble presents the Palestinian perspective and shows life does, and must, go on.
